

NEMOE

NEuromuscular MOnitoring in the East of England

What is NEMOE?

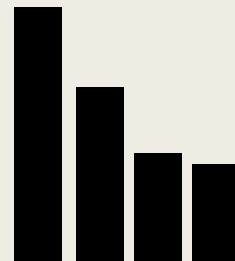

NEMOE is the latest regional project organised by the East of England anaesthetics trainee research network. We are looking to investigate practice around neuromuscular monitoring in the East of England.

It will involve:

- A site survey to determine the provision of neuromuscular monitors.
- A prospective audit of theatre cases involving neuromuscular blockade.
- A survey of anaesthetists exploring their practice and opinions on the topic.

Why should you get involved?

- Opportunity to lead or contribute locally to a regional project.
- Evidence of involvement will be provided to support all stages of the training curriculum.
- Potential to gather local and regional data to support improving practice.

When will the theatre audit be taking place?

The audit window will take place in the week beginning: _____

Who should I contact for further information?

Site lead: _____ Consultant lead: _____

Or visit the EASTRN website for more details.

EASTRN

East of England Anaesthetic Trainee Research Network